PROFILE

Therèse Kemp is one of the leading forces, providing legal advice concerning generational succession, significant private wealth, divorces, marriage agreements, visitation cases, and residence and custody cases.

Within succession law, Therèse Kemp works daily with wills, including complex wills with orders of succession. Therèse Kemp also represents heirs in major cases about succession, and she continually manages private and authorised estates, among other things handling properties abroad as well as companies.

Therèse Kemp is a trained mediator (conflict mediator) and, therefore, has tools to find constructive solutions in conflict cases. She is especially known for creating good solutions for the parties, speaking to everyone no matter their status, and never being intimidated by the counterparties.

Therèse Kemp is a licensed estate executor at Lyngby District Court and is tasked with handling complex cases about the division of marital property.

Therèse Kemp also has extensive experience in the law of damages – especially personal injury compensation, and she has the right to appear before the Danish Supreme Court.

For several years, Therèse Kemp has taught at the University of Copenhagen, and she is a regular lecturer for Advokaternes HR. Also, Therèse Kemp has for several years worked as a permanent lecturer for the Association of Danish Law Firms (Danske Advokater) and the Danish Chamber of Commerce (Dansk Erhverv) on generational succession and private law in general.
