PROFILE

Cecilie Sletskov-Hjorth specializes in employment and labour law and serves as the team leader for NJORD's employment and labour law team. She advises Danish and international companies on various employment matters, including executive relationships. Her guidance often covers employment terms, dismissals, terminations, business transfers, and mass layoffs. Furthermore, Cecilie has experience negotiating and interpreting collective agreements.

As an advisor, Cecilie understands that an attorney's role in society is unique, and she is highly conscious of this role and the responsibilities it entails. Trust between a client and their lawyer is fundamental and a prerequisite for a successful process. Therefore, Cecilie's advice is always 100% accessible, and she is adept at finding the best solutions for her clients – even in challenging situations.
