PROFILE

Anna Wendelboe Hansen is an experienced lawyer specializing in family and inheritance law as well as estate administration. She offers competent advice in spousal division cases involving divorce, separation, spousal support, and division of property. Anna is also a trusted advisor in child cases, handling complex issues of custody, residence, and visitation. She also has experience with enforcement and removal cases as well as international child abduction cases.

In addition, she drafts wills, prenuptial agreements, co-ownership agreements, and powers of attorney for the future, often in connection with generational transfers. She also provides advice in estates and handles both public and private probates. With Anna as your advisor, you are guaranteed a professional and personal approach to your legal needs.
